You can create a Hotmail address for personal or business email accounts. After setting the new e-mail account, you can customize the way it appears in your browser by changing background colors and font size. The creation of a Hotmail address requires you to have a Windows Live ID. Start your web browser and visit the Hotmail site (see links in resources). If you already have a Windows Live ID you can access the right side of the page and skip the step 2. Click the "Sign up" button next to the left center of the page. Enter your desired user name and choose if you want your email address to finish with @ hotmail.com or @ live.com drop-down menu next to the Windows Live ID field. Alternatively, you can click on the link below the field to use the existing e-mail address to create a Windows Live ID. Type a password twice; In this way you make sure you don't make a mistake in your password unless you make the error either times. The passwords must be at least six characters long and are case-sensitive; While you type the password on the site will show you how strong (or it's not). Enter your phone number if you want Microsoft to be able to In case you lose your password; This step is optional. Enter an alternative email address or click the link just below the e-mail field to choose a security application and an answer instead. Enter your name and surname, select your country / region, enter your postal code, choose the sex, select the date of birth and then enter the captcha code at the bottom of the page to indicate that you are a human being and not a Bot. Delete the check mark from the "Send promotional e-mails ..." check box under the Captcha code if you do not want Microsoft sending promotional e-mails on Windows Live, Bing and MSN. Allow to check if you want these e-mails sent to you. Click the "Accept" button at the bottom of the page to accept the terms and create your Windows Live and Hotmail account. If your chosen email address has already been taken, the site will inform you at the top of the page; You will have to continue trying new ID until you find one that is not taken. You will also need to re-enter the Captcha code, but the rest of your information should remain intact. Click on the incoming link at the top of the page after making the login correctly to read the Hotmail welcome e-mail to you. From now on you can simply visit the Hotmail site and log in with your Windows Live ID on the right side of the page to access your Hotmail account.
