Definition: a contrast between what is expected and what actually happens

Situational: something happens that we wouldn't expect to happen

Example: a fire station burns down

irony

Dramatic: the reader knows something the characters do not

Home Alone: We know that Kevin has planted traps every where, but the thieves don't!

Verbal – what is said is different than what is meant

You tell someone to break a leg but you mean for them to have good luck

Name: _____ Key

Warm Up to Irony!

Remember: irony is a statement where the actual meaning is different from the literal meaning or a situation where the result is different than expected.

I. Which is a Irony?

Write Y in the blank if the statement has irony. Write N in the blank if it is not ironic.

Y We named our St. Bernard "Mouse."

N Nothing is certain but death and taxes.

Y What a great day: I wrecked my car and got fired.

Y Jake's mother watched him play video games and said "I'm glad you're doing your homework."

N All's well that ends well.

II. Irony Match

Match an event from the first column with an event from the second column to create irony.

C buy a bus pass A. a hurricane floods the city

D win the lottery B. oversleep and miss school

A remodel your house C. win a car

B stay up late to finish homework D. lose the winning ticket

III. Explain the Irony

Briefly explain the irony in each statement below.

Student's answers will vary; they should include references to:

1. Liz parked her new car in two spaces at the mall so it wouldn't get dings. Because she was illegally parked, her car was towed and the tow truck was in an accident. Her car was totaled.

Her caution to keep her car safe is what caused it to be hurt.

2. For Christmas, Reuben sold his gaming system to buy his girlfriend a special outfit for her to wear to a concert with her friends. Eloise sold her concert ticket to buy Reuben a new game.

They sold things to buy the other a gift they now couldn't use.

Identifying Irony

Read the following sentences. Determine which type of irony is used in each sentence and then explain your answer.

Verbal Irony - The most common form of irony is verbal irony, which is the use of words to express the opposite of what is meant.

1. "I'm so glad you're here," she said, looking at the clock. "It's 11:00 and you're just getting started." (Verbal irony)

What type of irony is used? verbal irony

Dramatic Irony - Dramatic irony occurs when the audience knows more about a situation than the characters do.

1. "You're always doing things that way that always brings you some amazing opportunities," she said. "I'm so glad you're here." (Dramatic irony)

What type of irony is used? dramatic irony

Situational Irony - Situational irony occurs when the outcome of a situation is the opposite of what was expected.

1. "The report shows we're looking for the very best quality," she said. "I'm so glad you're here." (Situational irony)

What type of irony is used? situational irony

Verbal Irony - Verbal irony is the use of words to express the opposite of what is meant.
